

Whether you are trying to invent a realistic spaceship for a movie scene or write a great history paper, creative thinking is important no matter what you do! Scientists have learned that if you can think creatively in one area, it will help you in other areas.

Practice your creative problem-solving skills with this drawing project. Use the shapes and lines in each box to inspire a science-fiction masterpiece.

Alien from another planet

Spacecraft

